THE QUARRELSOME INSTINCTS.

Power Wielded in San Francisco by Secret Societies of Chinese-Court Machinery Used as Shields Rather Than the Means to Obtain Justice .-The "Tongs," and How They Meet--Enting Hearts.

The tigerish instincts of the thugs of-India have their counterpart in a dangerous pest that has of late years attained such a growth and power in California, and more especially in San Francisco, says a special dispatch from that city, that it has become too strong for the local authorities to cope with, although becoming more of a menace to society every day.

This is the Chinese highbinder element, which is directly responsible for nearly every murder that has been committed within the Chinese precincts within the past ten years.

within the past ten years.

Last year's death rate among the Chinese by the knife and pistol was extraordinarily large, but this present year's homicidal crop gives promise of brealing the record, if some preventive measures are not taken by the authorities to check the slaughter.

Chief Crowley did attempt, some months ago, to break up these hatcheries of blackmail and murder, by desries of blackmail and nutrier, by destroying the furniture and appointments of their assembly rooms, and scattering the memb. 7 of the societies all over the const. This vigorous treatment of the growing evil had a most salutary effect for a time, but the relief was only temporary, as the members of the various organizations which had been raided soon resources from their apprehened soon recovered from their apprehensions and again returned to the city

The meetings of the various "tongs" are now held as of yore, where black-mailing plots are conceived and victims selected for the knife and bullet, but instead of the deliberations being held at stead of the deliberations being held at the society headquarters, their prospec-tive work of robbery and bloodshed is now discussed in opinin dens and the back-rooms of merchandise stores, where it is impossible to secure any evi-dence against them.

That they do meet and are still active in their exterminating war moon rival in their exterioinating war upon rival organizations is demonstrated by the two murders which have marked the opening of the new year, the last one occurring a week ago last Wednesday when Fong Git, an attache of the Jack-

Detectives Cox and Glennon, who have probably had more experience with the criminal element of Chinatown than other attaches of the police department, claim that their efforts in the suppression of crime in the Chinese district are seriously hampered by the slow revolution of the wheels of justice in our police courts and the perjured evidence of both whites and Chinese, which is purchased with money supplied from the treasuries of the highbinder societies.

It is furthermore stated that the

It is furthermore stated that the friends and relatives of the various victims of highbinder vengeance, instead of invoking the aid of the police in redressing their grievances, became impressed with the idea that no justice can be obtained in the American courts and so they take the law into their own hands and retaliate in kind.

That the machinery of the courts has

That the machinery of the courts has been utilized to shield this class of criminals rather than punish them is demonstrated by the number of Chinese murderers who have escaped paying the extreme penalty of the law, al-though detected red-handed in the

The case of Lee Chuck is a notable instance of the power wielded by these societies in the protection of one of secreties in the protection of one of their members.

Lee Chuch murdered Yen Yuen in broad daylight on July 28, 1886, and while running from the scene of the crime was overhauled by Policenan Martin, whom he also attempted to kill with a pistol. This fatality was the outgrowth of a way then pening beoutgrowth of a war then pending be-tween Bo Sin Sear and the Gi Sin Sear societies. Over $40,000 was expended by the two societies, one in the prose-cution and the other in the defense. Two or three newtrials were granted by the supreme court, the last one result-ing in a sentence of fifty years in San

"In China we seldom hear of a case of blackmail or murder, for there they don't wait for the slow process of the courts to prove what is already a patent fact. If they are detected in the crime, the prisoner's head is chopped off by the public executioner on the very spot and day of the crime."

This merchant also stated that a number of the reputable storekeepers in Chinatown were members of various in Chinatown were members of various highbinder societies, having joined the organization for the sake of protec-tion against what they term "rough collections." They consider it cheaper to pay the regular dues of $2 50 to $5 per month than to be called upon to produce $500 at the point of a pistol.

The titles of the various societies in this city have been selected with an amusing disregard of the laws of constructs. For instance, one scenity, which amusing disregard of the laws of congruity. For instance, one society, which has for its purpose the importation of women as slaves into this country, is known as Kwong Tak Tong, which means "the chamber of far-reaching virtue." Another organization engaged virtue." Another organization engaged in the same traffic is called the On Leong Tong, or "the chamber of trangull consciousness,"

The societies of the "hatchet men,"

from which emanate all the blackmailing schemes and murder plots, have de-corated their organizations with most corated their organizations with most grandiloquent nomenclature. The Hop-Shing Tong, converted into English, means "the hall of victorious union;" the Sui On Tong Kung Tong means "hall of maintained justice;" the Wa Ting Shan Fong, an institution which derives its revenue from the Chinese brothels, translated into English means "flowery arbor mountain booth;" the Po Shin She and the Kai Shin She, two societies that raised $30,000 to defend societies that raised $30,000 to defend the assassin Lee Clinck, signify respec-tively in English "guild for the protec-tion of virtue" and "guild of hereditary virtue."

These associations are the principal highbinder organizations of the city, all having branches throughout the entire coast, where a thief or an assassin who is too closely pressed in the city can find a refuge and assistance in cluding eapture.

With all his shrowdness, treachery with all his girowaness, treathery and cunning, the average highbinder is steeped in superstition. When bent upon an errand of murder he nerves himself for the ordered by eating the heart of some wild beast, whose chief characteristic is bravery and ferocity. For this purpose the wildcat is generally preferred, and at certain times of the year this animal is exposed for sale in the Chinatown markets.

It is a significant fact—that several of

It is a significant fact that several of these felines have been shipped to this market within the past few days, but have already disappeared from the stalls. The meat of the wildcat is also esteemed a delicacy, but the heart is especially prized for its courage-producink quality.

Statistics of the incomes, expenses and savings, or otherwise, of 2,490 families in the United States are given by the commissioner of labor in his annual report. Of the above, 762 families are engaged in the pig iron industry, 623 in engaged in the pig fron industry, 623 in bar iron, 183 in steel, 508 in bituminous coal, 219 in coke and 165 in iron ore. Of 770 families investigated in Europe, 76 are engaged in the pig fron industry, 251 in bar iron, 201 in steel, 194 in bituminous coal, 29 in coke and 19 in iron ore.

It appears that the largest average income in the United States is by iron families, it being $784-11. The smallest income is for ore families, it being $401-65. In Europe the highest income is for families engaged in the steel industry, where it is $500-10. One would naturally have expected that in the United States the average income of families engaged in the steel industry would have been the largest, instead of those in the bar iron, or any other of would have been the largest, instead of those in the bar iron, or any other of the industries considered; but for sev-eral years the new processes introduced in the manufacture of steel in this coun-try have enabled the producers to em-ploy a lower grade of help, so that bar iron with its skilled workmen now leads the iron industries. In Europe these processes have not been so thoroughly developed in the steel manufacture, and processes have not been so thoroughly developed in the steel manufacture, and so a high grade of skill is found there. Incomes vary widely even in the United States. For instance, in the pig iron industry the average family is 5.6, with an average income of $499.04, or an average for each individual in each family of $88.48; in Illinois the income rises to $723.69 per family, or $168.30 per individual; in Ohio, $586.39 per family; in New York, $556.99; in Pennsylvania, $625.59; in Tennessee, $746.61, and in West Virginia, $696.67. For Belgium the income per family is $374.53, while in Great Britain it is $456.86.

A Letter Wherein the Great Expounder Gives His Religious Views.

In these times of "theological unrest" and shifting definitions of doctrine, the following, reprinted from a newspaper of twenty-four years ago, will be read with interest:

with interest:

Dr. Smith of Concord, N. II., has published the following letter of Daniel Webster to the Rev. Thomas Worcester, formerly pastor of the Congregational Church in Salisbury, N. II., which is accompanied with a confession of his religious faith, both of which are in his own handwriting:

"Boscawen, Aug. S, 1807.—Dean Sir: The other day we were conversing respecting confessions of faith. Some time ago I wrote down for my own use a few propositions in the shape of articles, intended to exhibit a very short summary tended to exhibit a very short summary of the doctrines of the Christian religion of the doctrines of the Christian religion as they impress my mind. I have taken the liberty to inclose a copy for your pe-rusal. I am, sir, with respect, Yours, etc., Daniel Webster.

"I believe in the existence of Almighty God, who created and governs the whole world. I am taught this by the works of nature and the world of revelation.
"I believe that God exists in three persons; this I learn from the revelation,
"Nor is it any objection to this belief that I cannot comprehen; how one can that I cannot comprehen ! how one can that I cannot comprehen: now one can be three or three one. I hold it my duty to believe, not what I can comprehend or account for, but what my Maker teaches me.

"I believe the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the will and word of God.

of God.
"I believe Jesus Christ to be the Son "I believe Jesus Christ to be the Son of God. The miracles which he wrought establish in my mind his personal authority, and render it proper for me to believe whatever he asserts. I believe, therefore, all his declarations, as when he declares himself the Son of God, as when he declares any other proposition. And I believe there is no other way of salvation than through the merits of his atonement.

"I believe that things past, present, and to come are all equally present in the mind of the Deity; that with him there is no succession of time, or of ideas; that, therefore, the relative-terms, past, present and future, as used among men, cannot, with strict propriety, be applied to Deity. I believe in the doctrines foreknowledge and predestination as thus expounded, I do destination as thus expounded, I do destination as thus expounded, I do not believe in those doctrines as impos-ing any fatality or necessity on men's actions, or in any way infringing free agency.

"I believe in utter inability of any human being to work out his own salvation without the constant aids of the spirit of all grace.

spirit of all grace.

"I believe in those great peculiarities of the Christian religion—a resurrection from the dead and a day of judgment.
"I believe in the universal providence of God, and leave to Epicurus and more unreasonable followers of modern times the inconsistency of believing that God made a world which he does not take the trouble to govern.
"Although I have great respect for some other forms of worship, I believe the Congregational mode, on the whole, to be preferable to any other.
"I believe religion to be a matter not of demonstration, but of faith. God requires us to give credit to the truths which he reveals, not because we can which he reveals, not because we can prove them, but because he declares them. When the mind is reasonably convinced that the Bible is the word of God the only remaing duty is to recoive its doctrines with full confidence of their truth, and practice them with a pure heart.

"I believe that the Bible is to be un-"I believe that the bible is to be di-derstood and received in the plain and obvious of its passages, since I cannot persuade myself that a book intended for the instruction and conversion of the the whole world should cover its true meaning in such mystery and doubt that none but critics and philo-ophers can none but crities and philo-ophers can discover it.

"I believe that the experiments and subtleties of human wisdom are more likely to obscure than to enlighten the revealed will of God, and that he is the most accomplished Christian scholar who hath been educated at the feet of Jesus and in the College of Fishermen.

"I believe that all true religion consists in the heart and the affections, and that, therefore, all creeds and contessions are fulfible and uncertain evidences of evangelical piety.

evangelical piety.

"Finally, I believe that Christ has imposed on all his disciples a life of active benevolence; that he who refrains only from what he thinks to be sinful has from what, he thinks to be sinful has performed but a part and a small part of his duty; that he is bound to do good and communicate, to love his neighbor, to give food and drink to his enemy, and to endeavor, so far as in him lies, to promote peace, truth, piety and happiness in a wicked and foreign world, believing that in the great duy which is to come there will be no other standard of morif there will be no other standard of merit. no other criterion of character than that which is already established—By their fruit ye shall know them."
